

OPEN BOOK EXAMINATION

Continuous Evaluation otherwise called Internal Assessment is a grading system that prepares students community in their academic growth.

Presidency College ensured that the syllabus coverage was successful through the online mode during the lockdown period and it was only apt to conduct an online exam to assess the learning of the students.

An open book exam was conducted where the question papers were uploaded through the 'Teams' app. The challenge was that students had to employ their analytical skills to solve the paper; they were allowed to refer to any material from any source to answer the questions.

After the completion of the test the students were instructed to take an image of their handwritten manuscripts, scan the same and upload it to 'Teams', within the stipulated time.

The faculty in charge of the respective subject graded the answer scripts and uploaded the marks on 'Teams'.

Change is the only constant and Presidency College is always welcome to change for the benefit of its stakeholders.
